Luck Runs Out for Gambler; Killer Gets Him with Blast

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 8—(P)—Gambler Herbert Noble, who cheated death eleven times, died in a thundershower explosion yesterday. On a twelfth attempt "the cat" ran out of luck.

The silver-haired, self-styled retired gambler was killed as he stopped his car at a rural mail box near his fortress-like ranch.

The killer—or killers—hid in a scrub oak thicket some 75 yards away, then touched off a devilishly-hidden land mine.

The blast underneath Noble's automobile left it a crumpled wreckage and scattered bits of the 42-year-old gambler's body over a wide area.

At least twelve times Noble had escaped death, but not injury, and this earned him the nickname "the cat."

He blamed "hired killers" for the attempts and said there was an underworld price of $50,000 on his head.

The Kefauver crime committee heard his experiences from a Dallas police officer this year and Noble told a Texas legislative crime investigating committee of gambling—and gambling feuds—in Dallas.

There were few clues for police to follow. One was a mysterious blue pickup truck seen on the dusty country road leading to his ranch near Lewisville, ten miles northwest of Dallas.

Parked Truck Seen

R. O. Millican, a rural mail carrier, said he saw the truck parked by the side of the road a quarter of a mile from Noble's mailbox. He passed it about an hour

Bloody Boat Mystery Has Simple Solution

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8—(P)—The case of the empty rowboat, with bloodstains nearby, was explained today.

Ever since the boat was found Saturday, at Oakwood Beach, Ricky River, its occupant, Pasquale Angelone, 22, of Cleveland, had been missing. Today, he was back home, blaming it on amnesia, or loss of memory.

Police said Angelone found out yesterday he was in Akron and telephoned his mother he was all right. She fainted. Then his brother traced the call to an Akron Tavern (Bell or Ball Tavern) and told him to come home.

The bloodstains? Angelone had a nose bleed.

McCarthy Ouster Before Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—(P)—The move by Senator Benton (D-Conn.) to expel Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) from the Senate was put in the hands today of the same Senate subcommittee which denounced last fall's Maryland senatorial campaign and noted McCarthy's part in it.

The Senate rules committee at the same time approved by a vote of 9 to 3 the subcommittee's report which said a "despicable, back street" type of campaign was run in behalf of John Marshall Butler, Republican, who defeated Senator Millard Tydings, Democrat, in Maryland.

The vote means the report will be sent on to the Senate.

'Outside' Citizens May Be Drafted

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 8—(P)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, U. S. Selective Service director, said today it is "highly probable" young American men living outside the United States will be required to register for the draft.

General Hershey said he has come to Europe "to get the feel of the draft situation in regard to Americans living here."

"We are giving a great deal of study to this question but a decision on how and when has not been made," he said in an interview.

Hershey said he will confer with State Department and army leaders in Germany on the problems of drafting American youths outside the U. S.

Meanderings By Wash Fayette

One day last week during the Conservation Field Day, I ran in to Miss Marian Shook, home demonstration agent in training here. Clutched in one hand was a rather vicious looking hammer.

A friend asked her just what part of her work she was planning to demonstrate with it.

"Home management," she replied.

and a half before the explosion. Police also sought three men in Fort Worth. One was once arrested for assault to murder Noble. He was never tried.

The blast that killed Noble was carefully planned. It came about 12:45 P. M. (EST), but the result wasn't discovered until J. G. Cunningham drove down to get his mail and found it, about 2 P. M. (EST) some neighbors said they heard the explosion.

Wires ran from the hidden mine, through a concrete culvert, and to the thicket where the killer hid. The explosive was hidden in a spot that was directly under Noble's automobile when it stopped at the mail box.

It was at least the fourth attempt to kill Noble by explosion. The first killed his wife by mistake. That was late in 1949 and was followed by a period of gangland violence in Dallas.

Mrs. Noble was killed when she stepped on the starter of the automobile her husband normally drove. A bomb exploded.

New WHS Principal Appointed by Board

Threat of War Is Cited As Argument for Huge Military Appropriation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—(P)—A congressional military expert told the House today "there is only a minimum hope" the United States can avert an all-out war that might last ten years.

Opening debate on a $56,000,000 military appropriation bill, Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) cautioned against "complacency" and sounded this warning.

"In my judgement, there is only a minimum hope that our difficulties with Russia can and will be resolved short of war. Trends from cold to hot war, from little wars to big wars, do not have a tendency to reverse themselves short of an all-out explosion."

"We are not so blind that we fail to realize that an all-out shooting war might last for a decade and might very well destroy much of civilization as we know it on this planet."

"One cannot but shudder at the contemplation of the death and misery that would be incident to a global conflict involving the United States and Russia as the principal adversaries."

Heat Sizzling In Southwest

(By The Associated Press) Another day of blistering heat—with temperatures above 100 degrees—appeared in prospect for the southwest and plains states today.

Fairly pleasant weather was the outlook for most of the rest of the country.

The death toll from the hottest weather of the summer season mounted. Dallas reported 12 deaths during the current heat wave. Three have died in Houston from the heat.

Crops in some areas of the hot belt—chiefly in Texas—were withering. Many Texas cities reported dwindling water supplies. Lawns and flowers turned brown in the 100 degree temperatures.

The mercury soared to 109 at Presidio in south Texas yesterday. It was 106 at Fort Worth and 103 at Oklahoma City. Early today it was 85 in El Paso and Oklahoma City.

lowing an interview with him Tuesday night during a special board meeting.

He was given a one-year contract. The salary, however, was not disclosed.

He replaces Arthur Wohlers, who resigned to take a position in the research department at Ohio State University.

Titus is a graduate of Bowling Green State University, receiving his bachelor of science degree in 1935. He obtained his master of arts degree from Ohio State University in 1947.

He started his teaching career at Montpelier in 1935, teaching there for about a year and a half. He then went to Napoleon, where he taught commercial subjects and headed the commercial department from 1936 until 1944.

He was named principal of Napoleon High School in 1944 and has held that position since.

He is married and has three children, who are nine, six and two and a half years of age.

Titus is a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Kiwanis Club. During summer vacations he was a teller in the Napoleon Community Bank in 1942, '43 and '44. Napoleon High School, a four-year school, has an enrollment of 360.

Titus will move his family here as soon as he can locate a place to live.

Ban on Building May Aggravate House Shortage

New Restrictions Apply to All Except Smallest Bungalow

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—(P)—It is now virtually impossible to start the construction of any house except the smallest bungalow.

This is apparent in an analysis of the new restrictions on the use of steel, copper and aluminum.

Even a four or five-room minimum cottage does not fit into the allowances of essential metals now available.

The restricting order, entitled M-4A, issued by the National Production Authority (NPA), has created widespread consternation in building circles. When it was announced on Aug. 3, its full significance was not immediately realized by builders.

The order temporarily froze the start of new industrial and commercial buildings, apartment houses and hospitals, as well as all structures requiring more than minor quantities of the three critical metals.

The action was taken with the avowed purpose of conserving these metals for the national defense emergency.

One observer promptly commented "this means the end of all skyscraper building," and he added "it looks like a victory for the home builders' lobby."

Homebuilders Disillusioned

After several days of analyzing the order, however, home builders were disillusioned.

The order specifies that no individual one-family dwelling can be started if it uses more than 1,800 pounds of carbon steel, including its plumbing supply lines, or more than 35 pounds of copper.

If the house is to have copper water pipes, a total of 160 pounds of copper can be used, but only 1,450 pounds of carbon steel.

No structural steel, such as I-beam girders and columns, no aluminum and no alloy or stainless steel can be used in any house.

Those figures may sound big to the uninformed, but they fall far (Please turn to Page Twelve)

Truman Backs Flood Control

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—(P)—President Truman today asked the Senate to vote a special $21,800,000 fund for flood control works in the Midwest. He also asked that it over-throw House action which cut regular flood control appropriations by 20 percent.

In a letter to Chairman McKeel (D-Tenn.) of the state appropriations committee, Mr. Truman said the House cut was "false economy."

He asked the special $21,800,000 appropriation to provide for work:

1. On the Tuttle Creek and Toronto dams in Kansas.
2. On the Oolagah Dam in Oklahoma.
3. On the local flood protection work at Hutchinson and Wichita, Kansas.
4. On bank stabilization work on the Arkansas River.
5. For levee work on the Mississippi River between Wood River, Ill., and East Cape Girardeau, Ill.

Murder Trial Is Faced By One-armed Salesman

COLUMBUS, Aug. 8—(P)—George Phillips, 23-year-old one-armed insurance salesman, must face trial for second-degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. Ruth Alter, 32-year-old Columbus housewife. The grand jury yesterday returned the indictment against the Columbus man, after reducing it from a charge of first-degree murder.

Federal agents currently are pressing a hunt for four of the convicted and four of the other defendants.

Those arrested early today and yesterday were:

In Baltimore—George A. Meyers, 38, chairman and organizer in the party's district 4 (Baltimore) headquarters; Roy Wood, 36 Washington, D. C., party chairman; and the attorney, Maurice Louis Braverman, 35, of Baltimore.

In Cleveland—Regina Frankfield, 41, of Cleveland, a former organizer in Baltimore.

In New York—Dorothy Rose Blumberg, 47, of Brooklyn, former treasurer of the party's 4th district, and Philip Frankfield, 44, party organizer in Cleveland, apprehended as he boarded a plane for the Ohio city.

The FBI, which announced Braverman's arrest early today, pointed out that he has never publicly admitted affiliation with the party but that he allegedly is the official attorney for the party's Baltimore headquarters.

More Arrests Coming

Meanwhile, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover said in San Diego, Calif., that more arrests would follow. But he warned against hysteria. Hoover indicated the FBI is now working on third level Communists as he interrupted his vacation to give a news interview.

Yesterday's snare of alleged plotters was the fourth since the government first invoked the (Please turn to Page Twelve)

West Point Recruits Gridders, Coach Red Blaik Now Admits

WEST POINT, N. Y., Aug. 8—(P)—Head Football Coach Earl H. Blaik said today West Point yearly recruits a percentage of its football team from the nations high schools.

"If we did not do that," he said, "we would be unable to have any athletes in West Point able to play a normal schedule."

Blaik's statement came in the midst of a controversy over dismissal of 90 cadets, including most of the football squad, for cribbing in classroom examinations.

It followed a report quoting Donald MacDonald, Flint, Mich.,

high school star, that the academy attempted to recruit him.

Blaik denied, however, any of the high school boys were high-pressured to enter the academy. Many of them, he said, themselves contact West Point and ask for an opportunity to enter.

Of 24 boys given such an opportunity this spring, Blaik went on, only seven of them were able to pass stiff entrance examinations, and only five of them actually entered the academy in July.

The Chicago Tribune had quoted MacDonald as saying he had a six-week, expense-paid vacation at the academy this summer and that he and 22 other potential players had informal talks with Blaik.

In Flint, however, MacDonald said the story was a "misrepresentation of facts."

Blaik said MacDonald was "a boy interested in coming to the Point."

As to MacDonald's statement that the draft-free status of cadets was held out to the high school players as well as other inducements Blaik said "very silly, I don't think it behooves anyone to

'Twas Lovely Poem But Also Costly When in Writing

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8—(P)—Here is a poem that backfired on Dr. M. Robert Harris in the form of a $100-a-month separate maintenance suit:

"Say it with flowers, say it with sweets,

"Say it with jewelry, say it for keeps;

"Say it with sable, say it with ink."

In winning her suit, Harris' wife, Ruth, used the ditty along with 700 love letters he wrote while courting her from overseas in 1945. The rhyme was in a letter which stated:

"Of course, I'm violating the GI code (ditty follows). My darling, you may keep every letter; hold this one forever. Each tells you I love you dearly. Never fear, you'll have no opportunity to sue me..."

Dr. Harris, 32, may have been an ardent suitor, the wife contended, but he turned out to be a cold husband who refused to have children. She said he deserted her.

Birmingham Is Dry By Voting Mistake

BIRMINGHAM, Aug. 8—(P)—The city commission inadvertently voted a law making Birmingham bone dry.

The commissioners yesterday were trying to adopt a resolution which would stop the drinking of denatured alcohol, paint remover and bay rum.

Instead they padded a statute, effective Aug. 31, which the reduced legal department too late discovered would also stop legal sales of beer and whisky.

The law enacted banned buying, selling or drinking of any intoxicating liquid used "for the purpose of substituting it for a beverage that will produce intoxication."

"There'll have to be an amendment," said Mayor Cooper Green.

More American Communists Snared in Big Roundup by FBI

(By The Associated Press)

The FBI snared another batch of alleged American Communists yesterday, promised more arrests, but said there would be "no hysteria, no mass raids, no roundup of thousands."

The latest roundup netted five more Communist leaders in New York, Baltimore and Cleveland. A sixth person, described by the FBI as an attorney for the Red party, was arrested in Baltimore.

All six were charged with plotting to advocate violent overthrow of the U. S. government. This same accusation was leveled against 11 convicted top-rung Communist leaders and 34 more accused lesser Reds now awaiting trial.

Handicaps Are Faced By Health Department

The Fayette County Health Department reports it is in urgent need of additional help.

The recent resignation of Donald Lange, sanitarian, and of Miss Rosamond Burris, registered nurse, plus the fact that the staff already had two fewer nurses than normal, has left the department operating on less than 50 percent of its regular professional force.

For this reason health officials here are hoping that if there are any registered nurses or qualified sanitarians in the county who are interested in these positions, they will make immediate applications to the health department office in the Court House here. Nurses with some public health training would be preferred, but this is not an absolute necessity, it was said.

Ordinarily the Health Department uses a staff of four nurses. The departure of Miss Burris at the end of this month leaves only Miss Gretchen Darlington, supervising nurse, on the job, unless replacements are obtained.

It is stated that Mrs. Gladys Moore, who took a leave of absence for the summer, is expected to return in September, but two other nurses will be needed with the beginning of the school year when a heavily increased load of work will fall upon the department at that time.

The loss of Lange, who left (Please turn to Page Two)

Sen. Daniels Assails Ohio Liquor System

COLUMBUS, Aug. 8—(P)—Sen. Albert L. Daniels (R-Greenfield) today declared the Lausche administration has "hidden" at least $6,000,000 in state liquor profits.

He issued a prepared statement to members of the 99th General Assembly demanding an investigation of the "hidden profits."

Daniels is former chairman of the Senate finance committee and a veteran member of the upper House.

The statement cited the financial report of State Finance Director Herbert D. Defenbacher for the two-year period ended June 30. The report indicated the state's liquor business fell off some $4,225,000 from estimated revenues of $25,000,000.

Daniels said during the 1945-46 biennium the state realized a profit of $23,000,000 from selling $225,000,000 of liquor. But the profit was listed as only $21,575,000 for the last biennium from selling $296,000,000 worth of liquor.

"It is a very conservative estimate to say that the governor and his director of finance are 'hiding' at least $6,000,000 in this liquor setup by refusing to transfer liquor profit and by building up a huge state liquor inventory," Daniels' statement said.

Southern Ohio Hit by Drought

COLUMBUS, Aug. 8—(P)—The weather bureau reported today "semi-drought" conditions in southern and southwestern Ohio counties.

"The entire state is in need of more rain, especially in the extreme southern and southwestern counties," the bureau said.

It noted there had been some scattered showers and a few thunderstorms -- and more predicted -- but said these had not changed the situation.

The dry weather has turned some of the tobacco plantings yellow and is parching pastures and gardens in counties along the Ohio River.

All farmers except those in the extreme north and northeast have their wheat and oats harvested. The yield per acre is variable, being greater in the eastern and northern counties.

The second cutting of hay is complete in most areas. But the third cutting of alfalfa hay in the southwest is doubtful due to the dryness.

High Cost of Meat Beaten by Possum

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Aug. 8—(P)—Roasted possum and sweet potatoes are competing with high-priced meats on dinner tables hereabouts.

A couple of enterprising Negro grocers, Sidney Harden and James Nelson, have started raising their own possum.

"They're our biggest selling meat item," says Nelson. "We sell 'em as fast as we can raise 'em."

They get about $1.50 for a plump, year-old possum weighing four or five pounds.

"Well roasted, it tastes just like roast pork," Nelson says.

UN Negotiators Return to Korea With Warning

Meetings Halted When Reds Violate Neutrality Zone

BY OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO, Aug. 8—(P)—Allied armistice negotiators returned to Korea today ready to resume cease-fire talks if the Reds promise to observe the neutral Kaesong zone established for purposes of these negotiations.

Communist radios made no mention of Tuesday's message from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway saying peace talks would be resumed only after the Reds make new neutrality guarantees.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy led the four American delegates back to the United Nations advance headquarters from top secret conferences with the UN commander in Tokyo. On his arrival in Korea, Joy said:

"I have no idea when the talks will be resumed. I will wait until the Communists answer General Ridgway's last message."

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, delegation spokesman, said the order to resume the interrupted negotiations would have to come from General Ridgway, even if Red leaders accept his terms.

The UN commander broke off talks after a company of armed Reds marched through the neutral zone. Top Red commanders said it was an accident.

UN Demand to Reds

In his Tuesday message Ridgway demanded that the Communists promise not to allow any more of their armed soldiers to enter the neutral area. This zone extends in a five mile radius from the Kaesong site of armistice negotiations.

Up to the time UN negotiators returned to their advance camp, the Red radios in Peiping and Pyongyang had not mentioned the Ridgway message.

Instead, they accused American troops of violating the neutral zone.

Nuckols said North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, had made such a charge in armistice negotiations. Nuckols said liaison officers discussed the charge and it was subsequently investigated.

He said he did not know the result of the investigation.

Red radios accused UN troops of violating the neutral zone July 16 by attacks on Panmunchon, which they said was in the neutrality area. Allied maps show the town is six miles east of Kaesong, outside the zone.

General Nuckols said at least four, time-consuming details stand in the way of reopening armistice negotiations. They are:

1. The Red reply to General Ridgway.
2. Ridgway's instructions to this delegation to contact North Korean General Nam IL.
3. Actual contact of Nam by the delegation.
4. Acknowledgment by Nam.

Temporary Guest Knifed by Mistake

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 8—(P)—The temporary guest occupant of a house was stabbed and seriously wounded when a 14-year-old boy arrived home unexpectedly last night and each mistook the other for a burglar.

Anthony Park, 35, London, England, social worker occupying the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Schroeder during their absence on vacation, was stabbed, police said, in a scuffle with the Schroeders' 14-year-old son, Mark.

The boy had not been told that Park and his wife would occupy the home during the Schroeders' absence.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—(P)—Senator McCarran and his fellow-senators on the judiciary committee have shown much eagerness in digging into Communism.

But they have shown a tardiness in putting into motion some other government machinery for working the same field, including an examination of our whole loyalty and security program.

McCarran, a Nevada Democrat but not friendly with President Truman, is chairman of the very important judiciary committee whose members this year created a subcommittee of themselves to look into Communism. It's a twin of the House UN-American activities committee.

It's working now on possible Communist links in the State Department. But last year McCarran was chief sponsor of a measure—called the subversive activities control act—to flush members of the Communist party into the open.

That act called for Mr. Truman to appoint a five-man board to decide whether the Communist party is a Soviet agent. Before the board could operate with full blessing of the law, it had to be approved by the full Senate, a step which first needed approval by McCarran's judiciary committee.

Thus McCarran's group had in effect life and death power over any board appointed by the president. Although Mr. Truman appointed the board last October, the judiciary committee kept the board and the program in suspense until last week when it finally approved three of the five board members. It hasn't decided on the fourth. The fifth had resigned because of illness.

The government's loyalty and security program -- to get rid of disloyal government workers and those, who can't be trusted with secrets for one reason or another -- has been criticized on two main counts: It wasn't tough enough; and it didn't give enough protection to the rights of individuals.

Last January Mr. Truman appointed a commission of nine prominent men, all outsiders, headed by Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, to examine the whole loyalty-security program to see how it's doing and how it could be done better. This was the best chance the country has had for an impartial study of the whole controversial issue.

There was a slight hitch, which could be cleared up by McCarran's committee before the commission, made up of businessmen and lawyers, could buckle down to work.

The commission members, because of the nature of their work, regularly have dealings with government agencies, like thousands of other American businessmen. They'd draw some pay from the government for their work on the commission. But this wouldn't be fulltime. And meanwhile they'd want to do their regular business with the agencies.

But there's a law, called the "conflict of interest" law, which forbids anyone to draw government pay while doing business with the government or representing outside interests before federal agencies.

From time to time when it's necessary to get prominent men to come in and do a special job for the government -- men who'd otherwise be barred because of the conflict of interest law -- Congress has passed a special law just for them, exempting them from conflict of interest.

This was done, for example, in the case of the men called in to work with former President Hoover on reorganization of the gov-

The answers to everyday insurance problems *
By Leonard Korn and Dana Hyer

QUESTION: While on a fishing trip last fall, I was fly casting and accidentally snagged a friend in the back of the neck. The hook had to be cut out and though the wound was painful, it wasn't at first serious. Later, however, it became infected and as I insisted on footing the medical bills, I paid dearly for my carelessness. I've been told that there is a form of insurance which covers this sort of accident and I would like to learn just what it is and how expensive it is.

ANSWER: The insurance coverage to which you refer is given by a Comprehensive Personal Liability policy. The premium is very small and the policy covers your own legal liability and that of your wife and all minor children. Injuries caused by sports accidents are specifically covered.

Plans Are Made For Market Hog Show Sept. 7

Premium Prizes And Ribbons To Be Awarded Winners

Directors of the Fayette County Swine Breeders and Feeders Association have completed plans for the second market hog show, to be held Friday, September 7, at the Producers Stockyards.

Premiums and ribbons will be offered for three different classes, as follows: Class A—individual market hogs; Class B—pen of three market hogs and Class C—Pen of Ten Market Hogs.

Last September, the organization held their first market hog show, which brought out over 125 head of market hogs, shown by 31 different hog raisers in the county. Hogs shown on this particular occasion are to bring out the difference in the value of cut-out of the different parts of the hog carcass, particularly in the more valuable cuts, such as the hams, loin, shoulder and sides.

A great deal of work has been done in the county on the matter of holding grading demonstrations and having a certain number of the hogs slaughtered by the university, and the results of the cut-out demonstration given to farmers at a later meeting.

On Tuesday, preceding the market hog show, another grading demonstration will be held and results of this demonstration used as a part of the educational program on swine day, County Agent Montgomery said.

The most desirable weights for hogs to be shown in the market show will be those weighing between 200 and 240 pounds, E. L. Saville, president of the association, said. The three classes to be exhibited in will offer an opportunity for farmers to show one to ten market hogs.

Entry blanks may be secured either from the county agent's office or from the secretary of the ernment and again for men serving on the loyalty review board which has final say on people fired for Communism from government jobs.

Members of the Nimitz commission wanted the same special law passed for them, since otherwise they couldn't make the sacrifice required to serve on the commission. The House approved a measure to clear them.

But the Senate didn't act. The McCarran committee refused to go along. In spite of exceptions made in the past, McCarran told reporters, "The law should be enforced for all." The Nimitz commission gave up and quit.

The market hog show is sponsored jointly by the Fayette County Swine Breeders and Feeders Association, the Producer's Stockyards, the Fayette County Stockyards, Kirk's Stockyards, the Washington Union Stockyards and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is furnishing the ribbons for the show and contributing $100 to the premium list.

Other contributions and donations will be secured by the association directors to complete the premium list of nearly $200.

Officers and directors of the association are: E. L. Saville, president; Robert Haigler, vice president; Herbert Perrill, secretary; Harold C. Mark, Robert Cockerill, Elmer Hutchison, Harry Heath, Ray Fisher, Homer Wilson, E. L. Hodson and James Perrill.

Air force procurement policies and procedures will be discussed in a general sense and their application to the small business men will be specifically pointed up, with the aim of rendering assistance to small businesses interested in defense orders.

Various methods of obtaining orders for defense production, both in the prime contract and sub-contracting fields will be discussed. A representative from the Dayton Regional office will be present at the meeting and explain the set-up. Several other communities have been invited to participate in the meeting.

Accidents Here On Big Increase

Chief Long Says July Total Doubled

An unexplainable increase in motor vehicle accidents is cause for considerable concern by Police Chief Vaiden Long.

Chief Long said auto accidents here went up 100 percent during July, as compared to July of 1950.

His records show that there were 45 accidents during July of this year, against 21 during July of 1950.

During July of this year 10 persons were injured as a result of the accidents while only two suffered injuries as a result of collisions in July, 1950.

The upward trend in the number of accidents covers a period extending from Jan. 1 of this year. There have been 189 accidents, with 27 injuries since the first of the year. This compares with 145 accidents and 12 injuries during the first seven months of 1950.

Chief Long said accidents are due to people not obeying stop signs, traffic lights and weaving in and out of traffic.

He said he can't think of any explanation as to why accidents

C of C Christmas Committee Picked

Marion Rife has been named chairman of the Christmas committee which will make plans for the Christmas celebration in Washington C. H.

Other members of the committee, named by Joe Peters, president of Chamber of Commerce, were as follows: William Lord, Stuart Gossard, R. F. Sandy, Frank Jean, Mark Gorton and Bud Schlue.

Plans have been made for Christmas decorations in the downtown section, with a suggestion that a Christmas tree be erected on the Court House lawn.

The decorations consist principally of arbores of lights strung from poles in the downtown section.

This year are so much above those in 1950.

While the number of accidents are on the increase, Chief Long said, "by grace of God we have had no fatalities."

He said he hoped people here would drive a little more carefully and stop the upward trend in the number of accidents.

new automatic CP gas range

makes cooking easier, more successful

"Cooking with gas"—natural gas, on a modern "Certified Performance" gas range, is almost like magic. Burners that light themselves, ovens that watch themselves, broilers that turn out the most delicious meats, broiled fish, grilled fruits and vegetables—these are the helps that make all your cooking easier and more successful. Every baking day is your lucky day!

All ranges bearing the "CP" seal in addition to their own brand names, have been designed and built to meet all the rigid "Certified Performance" standards of safety, economy, burner efficiency and general kitchen performance. "CP" ranges are made in many sizes, and in a choice of burner arrangements. See them at your natural gas appliance dealer's this week.

Vacation Memories Will Long Be Treasured

Returning vacationists of this city and county are telling and retelling of their trips to families and friends.

Whether the trips were to Canada, the far west, north or south, over ocean or lake, whether fishing or just touring, the memories of those who have enjoyed them will bear happy repeating.

There are scores who yet are to take trips. They are eagerly awaiting the "go" signal. The usual travel season however, while at the peak now, is about to decline.

The business of vacationing, will subside in a matter of a few short weeks, with a suddenness that will surpass the alacrity with which it started. The pattern varies little from year to year.

In May a few persons take to the road, the mountains and the water. In June the tempo of vacationing gains, but on July 4 the country goes all out for fun away from the usual haunts and occupations and vacation time has really arrived. From then until Labor Day roads and installations and accommodations really take a beating.

But already summer has progressed to the point that to many the vacation of 1951 is but a memory, and others are looking forward to a return to the old rut. More people than ever, according to reports, are touring this summer, which means that more people than ever will appreciate the old homestead more fully in the weeks ahead.

It's fun to go places, but it's just as much fun to return home and take up a more mundane scheme of existence again.

At one time the veteran American traveler thought it necessary to visit the Alps or journey to the Norwegian fiords. Frequently some hardy soul would fight the rigors of the climate and high altitudes in the Caucasus, the Himalayas and the Andes.

It is gradually dawning upon the globe-trotter in recent years that the United States holds supremacy in the world scenery. The sweeping ranges, the great forests, colorful parks, and beautiful waters are the most fascinating in the world.

Man Has It Now

Holy men of India in a recent gathering predicted that a great teacher of the stature of Jesus, Mohammed or Buddha would arise soon to save humankind from the passions which are sending it along the road to self-destruction. Man will be conditioned to receive the great teaching by the fears now arising, they said.

What teaching can this new messiah impart to man that he doesn't already know? All the great teachers of the past have taught man that the way to salvation is through peace, service, humility, love. The simple virtues have been extolled for the edification of the human family. They have been written for all to read. The Bible is and has long been the best seller in western civilization.

But so far has man departed from truth in favor of materialism that the ultra-materialist teaching that the state is the fountainhead of all wisdom has made strides in many lands, including this one.

Anthropologist predicts that in ages to come the human race will be only two feet tall. Even today the species look quite short mentally.

Diet and Health Condition of Heart Is No Bar To Travel

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Many people with weak or damaged hearts fear to travel by airplane. In fact, there seems to be a general belief that air travel offers a special hazard for such patients.

Recent tests, however, show that this opinion has little to support it. The oxygen in the air is markedly reduced at high altitudes, and it is this factor which supposedly made airplane journeys dangerous for those with heart disease.

Oxygen Reduced
Nevertheless, when the oxygen content of the air was reduced to 10 per cent—equivalent to an altitude of 17,000 feet in an unpressurized plane—no difference was seen in the electrocardiograms of heart patients. (An electrocardiogram is a tracing of the heart beat.)

Thus, this finding indicates that lowered oxygen intake causes no difference in the speed or rhythm of the heart, and serves to demonstrate the remarkable tolerance for high altitude that heart patients possess. This is confirmed by numerous airline travel records, as well as air evacuation of the wounded during World War II.

Surprising Tolerance
In addition, a small group of patients, who have had heart disease due to hardened arteries and repeated attacks of coronary thrombosis, was studied. It was found that even these patients tolerated air travel surprisingly well. The reason for the tolerance is the fact that the heart patient is protected from the harmful effects of low amounts of oxygen in inhaled air by a mechanism in his body that makes up for the deficiency.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
H. J.: Can you tell me what causes blood in the urine?

Answer: Blood in the urine may be due to many causes, such as acute kidney inflammation, known as acute nephritis; tumor in the kidney; stones in the kidney or bladder; infections of the bladder; certain blood disorders, such as purpura, or other infections.

Whenever blood appears in the urine, it is necessary that a thorough examination be made by the physician to find the source of the trouble. It is impossible to suggest treatment until the cause has been found.

Maggie Worked Hard for Success

By Relman Morin
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK—(P)—My wife, who is a career woman and admits to strong feelings on the subject, has a favorite cliché, to wit: "A woman, in any kind of business, has to work twice as hard as a man to get half as far."

I used to be stuck for an answer to that, but the war in Korea provided one. "How about Marguerite Higgins?" I ask, by way of a crusher.

Maggie Higgins was the only woman reporter over there on a daily stint. Some others came and went on quickies. (One, in fact, made such a quickie she had to consult a map when she got back to find out where she had been!) But Maggie made a job of it.

She came back with a Pulitzer prize, an excellent book, and a clear track for the lecture circuits. A Hollywood studio wanted her life story as the basis for a picture, but the agents made the mistake of showing her the story outline they had in mind, and she said nix to that. There were many other emoluments that came to her.

All of them were deserved richly.

Whether Maggie worked twice as hard as the men on the same beat would be hard to determine. Let's just say she worked as hard as most, and harder than others. In any case, the point is when the rewards were being passed out Maggie was handsomely remembered. And so she should have been.

She underwent all the usual hardships of war correspondents—plus. For example, she stayed with a South Korean division for a week or 10 days, and I do not recall any other American correspondent did that.

It was much more dangerous than sticking with American units, and by the nature of things, not much of a story. The newspaper readers over here naturally were more interested in closeups of what Americans were doing than they were in any of the Allied units. I doubt she got much copy out of it, but it was typical of her thoroughness to assign herself to the ROKs.

Her bravery, in fact, bordered on plain recklessness. One day, a correspondent's jeep was moving up near the front and it came to a fork in the road. An MP was standing there, and they asked directions of him.

He pointed down one road and said that was the quickest route to the unit they were hunting. But he added, "I wouldn't advise you to go that way. The Gooks have it under observation and they shot hell out of another jeep about an hour ago."

The boys debated for a moment, and decided to take a chance. Maggie was in the jeep. As soon as it moved out of earshot of the MP she said, with some irritation, "I have nothing but contempt for people like that."

If you worry about being shot at, you'd never get a story.

Coming into Kimpo Airfield one afternoon, she pointed to a bridge. "We were here last night," she said, "following the tanks when they took Kimpo. There was a lot of fighting around this bridge."

And she said, pretty much like a junior leaguer discussing the horse show, "it was quite exciting."

She lived in her dirty slacks and shirt for weeks on end, ate out of cans, and swallowed the yellow dust without a murmur. At the press camps, she asked for exactly nothing in the way of privileges or amenities due her sex.

Every two months or so, she would fly over to Tokyo, put on a dress, get a manicure and have her hair done. Maggie is a very pretty girl, tall, slim and blonde, with nice blue eyes, and a winsome almost a little-girl manner. This is wholly deceptive. On a job, she is ferociously competitive, and externally driven by a relentless necessity to be wherever "the story" is. When the last war ended, she was in Paris. She speaks good French and knows the country well, and she could have stayed there. But she didn't. She was hell-bent to get to Berlin "because there will be so much more news there."

As a group, women reporters are mighty good. Maggie is one of the best.

Lattimore Is Back in Limelight

By George Sokolsky

No data now available to the McCarran committee was not available to the Tydings committee. I say that from direct and personal knowledge. The "Amerasia" trial led directly to the Institute of Pacific Relations, but Senator Tydings chose to be delivered into a quarrel with his colleague, Senator Joe McCarthy.

I fear that the difference between Senator Tydings and Senator McCarthy was distressed by what he found.

The issue of Owen Lattimore again rears its curious head. A comparison will have to be made from the record between the testimony before the Tydings and the McCarran committees to discover the role of Lattimore in our affairs. I want to quote a few sentences from a letter that Lattimore sent to E. C. Carter:

"I think that you are pretty cagey in turning over so much of the China section to the inquiry to Asiaticus, Han-Seng and Chi. They will bring out the absolutely essential radical aspects, but can be depended on to do it with the right touch."

"For the general purposes of this inquiry it seems to me that the good scoring position, for the IPR, differs with different countries. For China, my hunch is that it will pay to keep behind the official Chinese Communist position -- far enough not to be covered by the same label -- but enough ahead of the active Chinese liberals to be noticeable. For Japan, on the other hand, hang back so as not to be inconveniently ahead of the Japanese liberals, who cannot keep up, whereas the Chinese liberals can. So the chief thing is to oppose the military wing of Japanese aggression in China, counting on a check there to take care of both the military and the civilian components of aggression in Japan. For the British -- scare the hell out of them, always in a polite way, but usually in a way that looks as if it might turn impolite. The British liberal groups are badly flustered; and being British, the way to encourage them to bull themselves together is to fluster the Tories. For the USSR -- back their international policy in general, but without using their slogans and above all without giving them or anybody else an impression of 'subservience'."

The importance of this letter is that already the McCarran committee has disclosed a list of about 80 names of persons associated with the Institute of Pacific Relations who, as experts, played an important role in the formation of the American policy concerning China. Such men as President Truman, Dean Acheson and George C. Marshall could not have formulated that policy all on their own because they did not and do not know enough about the subject. The experts, who formed the policy, were generally associated, in one manner or another, with the Institute of Pacific Relations. Among these were: Alger Hiss, John Stewart Service, John Carter Vincent, Lauchlin Currie, Owen Lattimore, O. Edmund Clubb, John P. Davies, Michael Lee, Solomon Adler, Laurence Duggan, Haldore Ahnson, Corliss Lamont, Lawrence K. Rosinger and Harry Dexter White.

To return to Lattimore's letter to Carter dated July 10, 1938, it is difficult to misinterpret the first paragraph quoted. The research of the Institute of China had been turned over to Communists by Carter with Lattimore's approval. Lattimore thought that it was "pretty cagey" of Carter to do that. The word, cagey, is slang for tricky, sleek, putting one over. The theory obviously was that these Chinese Communists were not known to be Communists and therefore could put over "absolutely essential radical aspects," according to Lattimore.

Look back at the date of this letter, July 10, 1938, and realize how long our defeat in China was in the making.

Lattimore, in this letter, openly and candidly advises Carter to support Soviet Russia. Now, Carter made the point that at that time, this country had recognized Soviet Russia. But so were we then in treaty relations with Japan and Germany and China and many countries.

Why should an American organization, headed by distinguished Americans, financed by Rockefeller and Carnegie money, and the deficits made up by Frederick Vanderbilt Field, back the Russian "international policy in general, but without using their slogans and above all without giving them or anybody else an impression of 'subservience'?"

Pipeline for Coal Cost Is Estimated

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(P)—A Bureau of Mines estimate yesterday placed at $10,000,000 the money necessary to build a pipeline 100 miles long for transportation of 5,000 tons of coal a day.

The bureau said the cost of moving the coal over the 100-mile journey would be $1.28 and $1.91

Pennsylvania Crime Is Put in Spotlight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(P)—A Pennsylvania state police captain named Louis Cohen today was a big interstate gambling operator reaping a $20,000,000-a-year harvest from lotteries in Pennsylvania alone.

Capt. Harry E. McElroy, testifying before the Senate crime committee, named Joseph Size of Scranton as Cohen's chief lieutenant.

Captain McElroy also told of an attempt to bribe one of his officers to "lay off" Cohen. McElroy, a veteran of 34 years of state police work, said the bribe offer was made to Detective Sgt. William Hartman of his staff by Jimmy Mack, self-styled Scranton gambler.

Size, a dumpy little man with a big lawyer at his side, had refused earlier at today's hearing got under way to surrender to the senators documents he was ordered to produce. He also refused to answer questions concerning his occupation and associations.

Kensington Club Is Entertained At Gossard Home

Mrs. Vere C. Foster and Miss Kathryn Gossard entertained the members of the Kensington Club at their spacious country home Tuesday afternoon and lovely flower arrangements were used throughout the rooms for the occasion. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Charles Parrett.

She used as her devotions several passages of Scripture taken from the Upper Room and closed with the praying of the Lord's Prayer. The usual reports were heard and Miss Louise Evans reported on Red Cross sewing which is a project of the club. It was also decided to contribute to the Flood Relief Fund to be used in the state of Kansas. Fifteen members responded to roll call, and the following program was in charge of Mrs. Foster and Miss Gossard. The first a reading by Mrs. Charles Parrett was entitled "Who Prayed Last Night?" "A New Year's Thought" was by Miss Florence Purcell, "Two In One" by

Youth Group Plans Activities At Meeting

The first cabinet meeting of the Junior High Youth Fellowship of Grace Methodist Church was held at the home of Miss Rosamond Burris and Miss Vera Bowman. The meeting was called to order by the president David Whiteside who led in prayer. Plans were discussed for an ice cream social to be held August 23 and it was also decided to conduct a contest to select a name for the new Y. F. newspaper. A party honoring two Chinese girls who are visiting here from Erie School, Kentucky, was also discussed and date was set for Tuesday, August 14.

The meeting was adjourned and light refreshments were served by Miss Bowman and Miss Burris. Mr. and Mrs. Norris Highfield were included as guests.

Two Guests Share Honors At Lovely Event

Mrs. Dean Waddell, Sr. of Greenfield, and Mrs. Frank Michael of this city, were charming hostesses on Tuesday when they entertained at a luncheon bridge at the Waddells' summer home, Beach Cliff, near Bainbridge, honoring Miss Ann Story and Miss Suzanne Willis, who leave August 22 on a trip to Europe.

The guests were confined to members of the luncheon bridge club to which Miss Willis and Miss Story belong, and a "Bon Voyage" theme was carried out in the decorations for the occasion.

One long table seated the guests for the delicious luncheon and the centerpiece was a lighted ocean steamer.

During the afternoon progressive bridge and a delightful swim in the Waddells' private pool provided pleasant diversion.

Madison FB Council Has Picnic Meeting

Members of the Madison Township Farm Bureau Council discussed three major questions relating to rural life when they held their regular meeting at the roadside park near Harrisburg Tuesday evening.

The questions were:
(1) How can we improve our farm organizations?

(2) Advanced rates in dues of council which members strongly oppose?

(3) What resolutions shall we make for improving our farm organizations as tools for group action?

The discussions—which are just that and designed to develop conclusions—were arranged by Forrest Fry, the discussion leader, under the general heading of "We Resolve".

The council also talked about the CARE packages which are to be contributed by it to help alleviate the want of war victims abroad. The packages from the Madison Council are expected to go to Greece, it was said.

The meeting followed a picnic supper by the 27 members and two guests.

The meeting was opened with Scripture quotations and a prayer by Mrs. Dwight King, the chairman.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Reed on Sept. 4. Assisting on that occasion will be Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Fry.

Vatican-Hitler Treaty Vexing Berlin Problem

Oath of Loyalty
Knotty Question
And Not Yet Solved

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN, Aug. 8—(AP)—An old treaty with Germany has popped up to plague the Catholic Church in Berlin.

Prelates are pondering over the problem now and the final decision probably will be made by the Vatican itself.

The question is: To whom shall the church in Berlin swear loyalty in temporal things?

This goes back to the Prussian concordat of 1929 and the treaty reached with Hitler in 1933. Under its terms, the bishop of Berlin was permitted to make its own appointments and was generally sovereign in matters of faith and morals. In exchange, he swore loyalty to the "Reich" on political questions which did not run counter to Catholic principles.

The death of Count Konrad Cardinal Von Preysing, bishop of Berlin, last December, and the appointment of Bishop Wilhelm Weskamp last month as his successor has raised the issue.

In order to fully take on his duties in both east and west Berlin and parts of east Germany, Bishop Weskamp must formally assume responsibility for the properties involved.

Question of Loyalty

Under the old concordat, this requires him to swear a loyalty oath on temporal questions. What the church has not yet figured out is: To whom shall we swear it? Communist east Germany or democratic west Germany?

Even though the Reich is a thing of the past and there are two Germanys now, church circles regard the old concordat as a binding document. It represents the sort of terms the church consistently tries to obtain—sovereignty in faith and morals and respect for government on other questions.

Cardinal Pacelli, who signed the concordat 18 years ago when he was Papal Nuncio to Germany, is now Pope Pius XII. No one knows better than he the importance and intent of the German treaty.

On the other hand, his holiness has resisted on many occasions in recent years reaching any agreement with Communist governments that would hamstring the church.

The Vatican's most recent refusal to bargain was a flat rejection of Marshal Tito's offer to release Archbishop Stepinac if he would leave Yugoslavia. Stepinac is serving 18 years on charges of collaborating with the Nazis. The Vatican maintained that the archbishop would want to stay with his people and that it had never recognized the justice of his trial and sentence.

Delicate Assignment

The Berlin bishopric is one of the more delicate assignments in Catholicism in these times. Some 200,000 Catholics living under Soviet occupation and Communist government are included in the Berlin diocese.

The cathedral, official seat of the diocese, stands in the Soviet sector of Berlin. Other church properties are maintained in the east zone states of Brandenburg and Mecklenburg.

The late cardinal lived in west Berlin and his private palace has also now become the home of the new bishop.

Despite the living arrangements, the Catholics have soft-pedaled their west Berlin associations, thereby avoiding the kind of argument the powerful Protestant Church experienced with the eastern Communists. The Protestants

ACCUSED of directing a fantastic global counterfeiting and narcotics ring from his Ellis Island cell, Joseph Orsini, 50 (right), is led to federal court, New York, by a U. S. marshal to be ordered held in $100,000 bail. Hearing is scheduled Aug. 10. Orsini is wanted in France for treason and collaborating with the Nazis. It was through Orsini, held for deportation as an undesirable alien, that a federal narcotics agent posing as a prisoner learned of the dope-counterfeit combine. (International)

Six Cops Suspended In Car-towing Racket

CINCINNATI, Aug. 8—(AP)—Thirty-six Cincinnati policemen have been relieved of duty following a garage owner's testimony he paid them kickbacks in an auto towing racket.

W. R. Kellogg, city manager, announced his action after Edwin G. Melzer named the 36 in testimony yesterday before a special city council investigating committee.

All will be given immediate "leaves of absence" until after the investigation, Kellogg reported, and any policeman exonerated will be paid for the time he is not on duty.

Melzer was the first witness in the initial hearing conducted at city hall yesterday. During the 3½-hour session, he identified from photographs 27 of the 36 policemen he named as having been "paid personally" by him in towing kickbacks. He said he knew some of the other officers by nicknames, physical characteristics, the kind of automobile they drove, or by association with police cruiser partners.

Things Sure Aren't The Same Down on The Farm These Days

By KENNETH ALLEN
Central Press Correspondent

ARMSTRONG, Minn.—Do you know what's happened to the farmer who used to bundle up in a sheepskin coat and wear four-buckle overshoes? He's eating ice cream now.

Mechanization of farms has done a great deal to cut the drudgery once associated with farming. But the influence on farmers' buying habits is just as striking.

Take it from Odeon Oleson, who owns and operates the grocery, filling station, hardware, department store, postoffice and men's and women's club here in this tiny crossroads farm community. Oh yes, he lives in the same building. He calls his combined establishment the Armstrong Merchantile company.

Oleson believes the change in farm buying habits is due in great part to increased leisure time farmers now have. And they have more money nowadays for fast automobiles, refrigerators, deep freezers, locker plants and farm machinery.

The University of Minnesota has figures to support this idea. Here's what the university has found: 100 per cent of southeastern Minnesota's 160-acre farms have tractors. Side-delivery rakes are owned on 88 per cent of the farms. Hay balers and manure spread-loaders were lowest in percentage points—12. The average value of farm machinery was $4,037 with operating expenses figured at $979 average.

All this new machinery has had influence on the Armstrong Merchantile company. A cold storage unit has replaced the pot-bellied stove. And the store has become self-serve with open shelves. And in this more modern appearing store, the farmers and their wives buy just like city folks—in the smaller packages.

Oleson used to sell four-buckle

General store owner Odeon Oleson ... "I guess the barns are warmer these days."

overshoes by the gross and sheepskin coats by the dozens. Now farmers are buying lightweight wind breakers that look and feel like ski jackets.

"I guess the barns are warmer these days. Farmers used to bundle up to their ears. Now they wear lightweight clothes and anybody who went through last winter in Minnesota knows the weather isn't any warmer," Oleson said.

Combines and meat processing plants are killing sales of binder twine and sausage casings.

"Used to sell both by the box-car full. Now I hardly sell any of either," he said.

Farmers buy bakery bread, brought fresh to the store daily from nearby and larger communities. Oleson sells lots of bottled milk to farmers who no longer keep milk cows. And he sells a lot of fresh vegetables to rural folks.

Oleson believes the sale of soap is significant. He used to sell bar laundry soap in tons per month. Nowadays the farm women want these fancy new soaps that do most of the work of dishwashing chemically.

"And why not? Farm kitchens are just as modern and pretty as any I've seen in town," Oleson said.

But he can't understand the farmer's craving for ice cream. He sells the stuff winter and summer. After a late spring blizzard had been ploughed out, the farmers gathered at his store, their cheeks red from the biting wind, to eat of all things, ice cream.

"I sell as much ice cream in the winter as I do in the summer. And a lot of bulk sales, too. Understand, I've got nothing against the cream. I like to raid the freezer myself. But I don't have the craving for it my customers do," Oleson says.

But the most revealing thing of all in the change in farm habits is the sale of gloves. Oleson used to stock the toughest work gloves he could buy. Some even had metal studs imbedded in the leather facings.

"But no more. Those gloves used to sell by the hundreds of dozens a year. But now I have only a box or two around. Farmers don't have to work so hard any more. They don't need gloves like that," Oleson said.

He figures this tells the story of what the machine has done to farming.

County School Teachers' Pay To Be Raised

County school teachers are in for an increase in their pay checks this coming fall, as a result of the minimum salary law recently passed by the state Legislature.

"It'll mean increases as much as $400 apiece," W. J. Hilty, county school superintendent, said. The range of increases will be from $200 to $400.

According to the provisions of the bill, teachers with less than three years college training will receive an annual salary of $2,000 with an annual increase of $100 for each of the first five years of service.

Those teachers who have had three years of college, but haven't received their bachelor's degree, will receive $2,200. When a teacher receives a bachelor degree the pay increases to $2,400 annually.

All teachers will receive an annual increase of $100 for the first five years service until they have a master's degree then the annual increases are $120 per year.

The scale of service increases goes beyond the five-year limit, but Hilty didn't have the complete scale figured out.

Armed Forces Members Do Not Need Licenses

Irvin J. Patrick, game protector for Fayette County, pointed out today that men and women on active duty with the armed forces may fish, hunt and trap without licenses.

Recently enacted legislation by the Ohio General Assembly provides that all members of the armed forces who are on leave or furlough may fish, hunt and trap without licenses.

The law provides, however, that the members of the armed forces must carry with them sufficient evidence that they are on active duty.

Friday Songfest Is Anniversary

Something Special Has Been Planned

Next Friday night's songfest at the Roy Wipert home on the CCC Highway near the Fayette-Clin-ton county line is going to be something just a little bit special --and there's a reason.

Friday night will mark the second anniversary of the songfests at the Wipert home.

During the two years since they started, the songfests have grown from a little group gathered around the piano to one that now nearly fills the house.

The repertoire has grown, too. It started with some of the familiar hymns and the tuneful old songs. But, during those two years it has branched out to take in folk songs and spirituals and on occasion there have been instrumental groups to add further variety.

But, by and large, the programs have followed the time-proven pattern.

Attendance Recognized

Recognition is now given for attendance. It takes several forms, but one of the most relished is the privilege of making the selections of the songs to be sang.

The songfests have several objectives, Mrs. Wipert has often said. But the one that stands out is to provide a common meeting ground for those who get pleasure out of singing.

A trained--or even a good--singing voice is not one of the requirements; about the only requirement is the love of music and the love of singing.

And with that comes the harmony that will not be denied in the hymns and the old time barbershop melodies.

A group of Wilmington College students has accepted an invitation to come and participate in the anniversary songfest. Between 18 and 20 are expected.

These students, many of them from out of the state and some from foreign lands, are studying rural recreation at the college this summer. And, since the songfests have their roots in the traditions of rural America since the pioneer days, they enter into the spirit of the occasion. It will be the second time a Wilmington College group has come to the songfest; many of those coming Friday night were there the last time, too.

They Keep Coming Back

The songfest attendance has grown steadily if not rapidly. Most of those who were at those first gatherings are still coming back; many of them rarely miss the opportunity to spend an evening singing.

Mrs. Wipert, the dynamo of the songfests, said she had no idea of what size the gatherings might reach. She intimated that only the size of the house would determine the extent of growth--and sometimes the limit is almost reached now.

The occasions are marked by informality and hospitality--and, of course, the common interest in singing.

Mrs. Wipert said there would be a special observance of the an-

Exchange Student Addresses Rotarians

German Girl Gets Surprise in U.S.; Few Cowboys, Indians, Gangsters

A charming and sprightly 21-year-old German girl, possessed of a very engaging personality, won the interest and hearts of Rotarians and guests Tuesday at their luncheon at the Country Club.

This young lady, Miss Sigrid Schaal, who has spent about a year in this country, as an exchange student coming here to study American rural life under a program financed by the National 4-H Club Foundation of America, entertained her audience with an extemporaneous talk on German life and customs.

Miss Schaal has been in this community two weeks, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Christopher, 919 Lincoln Drive. She is preparing to leave the first of next week on her trip back to her home at Stuttgart, Germany and says that she will carry with her many fond memories of one of the happiest periods of her life.

Introduced by L. M. Hayes, acting for the August program committee, Miss Schaal talked rapidly, informally and informatively for 30 minutes about her homeland and her changing impressions of America.

Customs Are Different

She asserted that after a year in this country she was overwhelmed with the hospitality of the people here. While, now and then, she had some little difficulties in learning our customs she said she really felt that there was not as much difference between Americans and Germans as she had expected to find.

Talking about the school systems of the two countries, she brought out that most of the people of Europe spoke several languages while comparatively few she had encountered here spoke more than English, or really American. She said she feels Americans speak differently than English people, especially in the central states and in the west.

The reason for fewer people knowing more than one language here, she observed, seemed to be the great distances of this country throughout which we speak the same language. In most European countries, especially on the continent, she pointed out one cannot travel only a comparatively short distance without encountering the language of a different nation.

Impressed by Freedom

Miss Schaal grew eloquent in her declaration of liking American freedom of speech, of the easy free talk of both sides of a question and of criticism without fear of reprisal.

She told of the false impressions gained by many Europeans regarding America and American cities. She related that when she had to change trains in a huge Chicago railway station, she actually approached this experience with fear. She had heard of Chicago "gangsterism" so much that niversary Friday night, but she declined to elaborate for publication.

she actually expected to see and hear shooting at her very elbow all the time she was in Chicago. She spoke of the impression of "cowboys and Indians" on every side which many of the youngsters of Germany had gained from motion pictures of America. She also told of the idea Germans have of wide-spread crime gained from sensational headlines.

She admitted that it had taken her quite a while to learn that these things here were the exception rather than the rule in American life.

"I think your country would be better off from the propaganda viewpoint," she said, "if America sent fewer sensational picture films to Europe and more of the good solid reading which better describes your country."

Germany's present problems, needs and gratitude for American help so far given were commented upon by Miss Schaal. She told of her first encounter with American soldiers in her home city and how they easily had dispelled her frightened attitude. She said most German people had grown to like the American soldiers very much.

Iron Curtain Explanation

She gave a rather lucid explanation of the worrisome barriers between eastern and western Germany, military and police restrictions due to Russian influence, which made it difficult for relatives and friends in the two sections to see and visit each other. "You people here fortunately have not known what it means to live in a country where you must maintain a guarded attitude because of fear," she said.

Miss Schaal asserted that the American 4-H Club activities were a revelation to her. In Germany farms are very small, she said, and the vast farms in this country never fail to amaze her. Farm machinery and equipment, used in such quantity here, makes the scanty use of such equipment in Germany seem small indeed, she declared. In explanation pointed out that German farms were too small to make much use of such equipment.

In speaking of schools here, Miss Schaal said she had found that teachers seemed much closer to their pupils and more friendly, than was the case in European countries, where there was more of the professorial type of teaching.

Miss Schaal was roundly applauded at conclusion of her talk and Rotary President Ed Moser thanked and congratulated her on her visit and interesting remarks.

Future Programs

Previous to the regular program Stephen Brown, Frank Jean and Marilyn Riley were called upon to stand while birthday greetings were sung to them. Each contributed to the children's recreation fund in accordance with the established custom.

Next Tuesday's Rotary program brings a local speaker in the person of Clifford E. Hughes, Fayette County commissioner and highly successful large scale farmer. He is scheduled to speak on "Fayette County Government From the Viewpoint of a New Official."

For the August 28 program it has been announced that W. T. Hackett will speak on "The Unlimited Power to Tax Is the Power to Destroy." Hackett is identified with the Huntington National Bank of Columbus and is quite familiar with tax laws by reason of his position as an estate analyst. He was formerly a resident of Cincinnati.

Farm Income Rises But So Do Expenses

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8--(AP)--The agriculture department reported today farm income totaled $15,400,000,000 during the first seven months of this year. This was 17 percent more than in the same period last year.

The department said this increase was not entirely a net gain for farmers because farm cost rates rose an average of 12 percent during the 1951 period.

Income from livestock and livestock products was reported at $10,700,000,000, or 25 percent more than a year ago.

Income from crops was listed as $4,700,000,000 or about the same as last year. Higher average crop prices were offset by smaller production.

Farm income in July this year was reported at $2,600,000,000. This was 20 percent more than in June because of larger market-

Bucks To Live Together Under New Coach's Plan

COLUMBUS, Aug. 8—(P)—“You’ve got to be a little bit of a missionary in this business,” grinned Woody Hayes.

And—whether you could see the proselytist’s gleam or not—that was how Ohio State University’s new coach explained his decision to house his freshman and varsity football squads together during most of September.

“It’s not just a matter of raising hell with the boys,” Hayes said. “It’s just that during those first weeks the boys need someone to help them. Maybe they’re down in the dumps. Well, we’ll be there to talk to them.”

In the past Ohio State’s footballers lodged themselves at all points on the north side campus. Hayes’ plan will billet them in the Oleny tangy Club in the northwest tower of the stadium. There they’ll stay from early September to just before the opening game with Southern Methodist, September 29.

“I think living together, developing team organization, and morale will pay terrific dividends,” Hayes said yesterday.

Tourney Opener Lost by Sabina

Host Team Is Upset By Hamilton Outfit

The Irwin Auger Bit of Clinton County and the Hamilton Burger Beer advanced another step in the district double-elimination softball tourney at Sabina’s Memorial Park Tuesday evening.

The Auger Bits took the first game 15 to 7 at the expense of the Frank Corano Inc. team from Clark County.

Hamilton won a close one 2 to 1 from the host VFW team of Sabina.

A girls game will be on tap for the spectators tonight as the Fairborn Girls take on the White Clover Dairy team in the evening’s curtain-raiser at 7:30 P. M. Montgomery County’s representatives, the Mad River Merchants, take on the Hamilton Coca Colas in the second game.

Thursday evening the Herb Dean’s All-Stars will play the Trenor Rockets in the first game while Jamestown and the Sunset Royals of Clark County play the second game.

Fourteen hits were collected by the Auger Bits off Swyer and Love, the Corano hurlers, while the Corano team could get only seven hits off Lewis, the winning pitcher.

W. C. French Team Wins Steak Dinner

Victory had a special reward for the members of the French softball team Tuesday evening.

After winning their opening game of the county tournament, W. C. French treated the whole team to a steak dinner at Anderson’s Drive Inn. Everyone, from the manager to the two bat boys, was invited and according to French, if they continue to win there might be another one later on.

In major league play the home team is required to supply the umpires with five dozen baseballs before each game. More must be kept in readiness.

Ohio Sports Chatter

BY FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Aug. 8—(P)—This and that from here and there in Buckeye sportsdom!

Eleven Ohioans will help Coach Buddy Parker build the Detroit Lions into a national football league power this fall.

They are center Jack Lininger, halfback Jerry Krall, fullback Ollie Cline, and guards John Biltz, Dick Flanagan and Bob Morsen of Ohio State; guard Tom Cruse and halfback Don Zalimeni of Case; end Jim Martin of Cleveland, who starred for Notre Dame; tackle John Prehlik of Cleveland, one of Yale's greats; and Bob (Hunchy) Hoenschmeyer of Cincinnati, who made history for Indiana's Hoosiers.

The Cleveland Browns also have six former Ohio Staters among the 14 Buckeye natives on the championship squad.

The proteges of Paul Brown are end Dante Lavelle of OSU and Horace Gillom of Nevada (Massillon); tackle Lou Groza and guards Lin Houston and Bill Willis of Ohio State; quarterback Cliff Lewis of Cleveland (Duke); halfbacks Tom James of Ohio State, Warren Lahr of Western Reserve, and Don Shula and Carl Taseff of John Carroll; and fullbacks Tony Adamle of Ohio State, Emerson

Cole of Toledo, Marion Motley of Nevada (Canton) and Jack Woodland of Bowling Green.

JIM MCCARTHY, COACH of the red-hot Cincinnati Purcell High School team, is looking for a football game Oct. 26 or 27 . . . Marion Speedway has settled the dust problem for its Sunday auto races by spreading 4,200 gallons of asphalt-base oil on the oval. The state division of Wilberforce College, which was named the "College of education and industrial arts at Wilberforce, Greene County, O.," by the courts after the school split in 1947, is now, by legislative act, known as Central State College and the school's football team under the tutelage of Coach Gaston F. (Country) Lewis, has been dubbed the "Red Marauders." The all-Negro school will play four of its nine games at home this fall.

JOE KNACK, SPORTS editor of the Toledo Blade, in discussing the recent basketball bribe scandal, said in his column: "Let us not be children on this subject. These kids, and other kids like them at other schools, are just as much professionals as the professionals themselves, only the paychecks aren't quite as large.

They are paid, and pay is the correct word, for their athletic ability.

"x x x before the colleges point too accusing a finger at these kids, let them not forget that they, the colleges, haven't been honestly personified in an athletic way, either.

"Two wrongs don't make a right, but let's not kick nice kids around for something they learned in college, and that something didn't come out of a textbook, either. Under-the-table transactions are catching up with the boys, and with the colleges that inaugurated the table tactics."

"x x x who is an easier prey than a kid who has gotten an easy buck out of a college being offered another easy buck by somebody else?"

Disability Benefits Sought by Don Black

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8—(P)—The Don Black episode has come before the Ohio Industrial Commission. The former Cleveland Indians pitcher, says his attorney, wants partial disability benefits.

So far as is known here, this is the first case of a baseball player asking the state commission for this type of action.

Back on Sept. 13, 1948, while the Indians were struggling toward a pennant and a World Series, Black was at bat against the St. Louis Browns in the second inning of a game in Cleveland Stadium. He fouled off a wide pitch then suddenly sank to his knees and dropped unconscious.

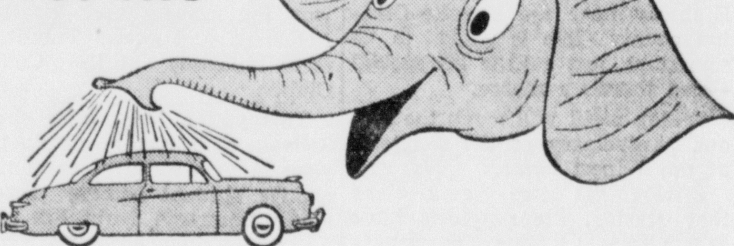

He was taken to a hospital, where it was said he had suffered a ruptured blood vessel at the back of his brain. He spent a long period in the hospital and never played baseball again, although he tried out with the Indians the following year, hopeful of a comeback.

County Tourney Gets Under Way

Welder, Frenchmen And Armco Victors

The Fayette County softball tourney got off to a flying start Tuesday evening on the Wilson Field diamond as the Welder School, W. C. French and Armco advanced to the second round in the winners bracket of the double elimination tournament.

Armbrust lost to the Welders, 7 to 1; French won from Pennington Bakery, 12 to 5 and Armco won from NCR 12 to 0 in the three games.

Rocking Chair Inn and the VFW will meet in the first of three games Wednesday evening (tonight) starting at 7 o'clock. This will be their first game in the double elimination.

Pennington's Bakery will play NCR in the second game, in the losers bracket, and the Frenchmen and the Welders will play the third game.

THE WELDERS GOT seven hits to win from the Armbrust team 7 to 1 in the first game. They scored two runs in the second inning, but were scoreless for the next two innings.

In the bottom half of the fifth they broke lose with a two-run surge and again in the sixth got three runs before the side could be retired.

Armbrust started a rally in the top of the seventh, but Matson, the Welder pitcher, ended it after one run was scored. Armbrust got five hits off Matson, but they were well scattered.

The best game of the evening was between the Frenchmen and Bakers. The Frenchmen won the game in the bottom of the sixth inning when they piled up eight runs to win 12 to 5.

Up to the sixth inning the Bakers had the Frenchmen going away, but five errors in the bottom of the sixth spelled the end for the Bakers.

They got two runs in the top of the second and two more in the fourth. The Frenchmen came up with three in the bottom of the fourth and tied the game in the next inning.

Loves Dodger Hurling

CHICAGO —(P)—Frank Baumholtz, former basketball star now playing the outfield for the Chicago Cubs, loves to play against the Brooklyn Dodgers. In the first 11 games against the Brooks this season, the former Cincinnati player batted .409. He made 18 hits—seven for extra bases—in 44 trips to the plate.

New Field House

LARAMIE, Wyo. —(P)—The University of Wyoming's $1,100,000 War Memorial Field House will be formally opened Dec. 14 and 15 with a four-game basketball tournament. The three other teams will be Colorado A&M, St. Mary's College of California and the University of Indiana.

Willard "The Knuck" Ramsdell of the Cincinnati Reds was taught the art of pitching by his father, an ex-semi-pro ball player.

Army Men Considered For Czar of Baseball

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(P)—Four top ranking generals head the list of 11 mystery candidates still under the club owners' consideration for the $65,000-per-year job as commissioner of baseball, the Associated Press learned today.

High on the list of candidates, although not necessarily available, are Generals Dwight D. Eisenhower, Douglas A. MacArthur

Maxwell D. Taylor and Hoyt S. Vandenberg.

Ford C. Frick, president of the National League, and Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds, are the only baseball men still on the pared down list—from 40 to 11.

The other five candidates are important industrialists whose identities cannot be divulged at present. Not one is in politics.

Businessman James A. Farley and George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, rated among the "big five" in the fore of the speculation, were among the 29 eliminated at yesterday's day-long meeting of the 16 big league executives at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson and FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover "regretfully" declined to have their names placed for nomination.

Others prominent in the field of politics and business, whose names were believed to be high on the list of prospects, were scratched yesterday.

One of the 11 may be named the new commissioner to succeed A. B. (Happy) Chandler when the owners meet again Aug. 21 in New York.

Collapsing Reds Beaten by Cubs

Indians Close in On Leading Yankees

By RALPH RODEN

(By The Associated Press)
The Chicago Cubs lunged to within one game of the slumping Cincinnati Reds by whipping them 4-1 yesterday, abetted by former Redleg Hank Sauer's two-run homer, his 18th.

The Bruins bunched four of their nine hits off Willie Ramsdell to score three runs in the opening inning, the big blow being Sauer's drive onto the leftfield runway after Frankie Baumholtz, another ex-Red, had tripled home the first run. Three singles gave Chicago their final marker in the sixth.

Bob Rush yielded only four singles—none of them figuring in the scoring—in posting his seventh victory and first over Cincinnati.

The lone Redleg tally came easily. Lloyd Merriman and Connie Ryan on 10 pitches and Merriman scored on the second of three straight infield outs.

THE CLEVELAND INDIANS, favorites in many quarters to end the two-year reign of the New York Yankees as American League champions, are nearing the "make or break" phase of the pennant race.

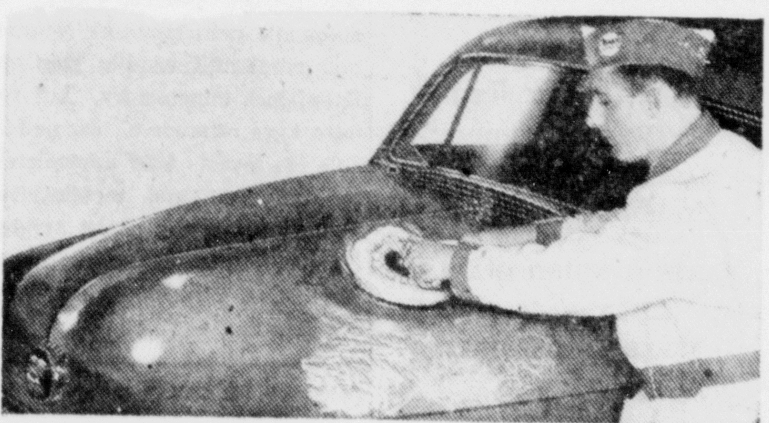

Following their current brief home stand, the Indians embark on a short road trip and then return home Aug. 20 for an 18-game stay that in all probability will decide their fate.

The Indians, trailing the pace-setting Yankees by a half game today, must clean up on their lone home stand. It provides the Indians with their best opportunity to take command of the race for up on its completion they take off on a 16-game swing that includes stops in every other American League ball park. Pennants seldom are won on the road.

Mike Garcia, husky righthander, pitched the Indians to within a half game of the Yanks last night as he turned back the St. Louis Browns, 5-1, on a neat four-hitter. The Yanks were idle. In other American League games the third place Boston Red Sox bowed, 7-4, to the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago White Sox nipped the Detroit Tigers, 2-1, in 13 innings. The Red Sox now trail by 4½ games and the White Sox by 6½.

IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE, the Philadelphia Phillies took a two-night doubleheader from the Boston Braves, 3-1, and 1-0 in 15 innings and the St. Louis Cardinals swamped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 16-7. The New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers were rained out.

Garcia blanked the Browns on two scratch hits until the ninth when he lost his shutout. Garcia helped his own cause with a three-run homer in the sixth. The victory was his 15th, the most he has ever won in the majors.

Beware Collegians! Paul Brown Gets Tough with Browns

BOWLING GREEN, Aug. 8 —(P)—Paul E. Brown is getting a bit testy!

And that bodes no good for the collegiate all-stars in that Aug. 17 grid game in Soldier Field at Chicago.

"As Brown goes, so go the Browns," and the five-time professional champions from Cleveland are getting in that "let's go get 'em" mood.

For years the practice sessions at the Bowling Green camp have been open to everyone, but this week Coach Brown clamped down and had the gendarmes clear the field of spectators. Afraid of spies, he said.

When the rains came, Brown kept his charges going full tilt. Otto Graham passed, Lou Groza place-kicked and Horace Gillom punted right through the downpour, while the others blocked, tackled and ran.

"Might rain in Chicago," Brown said, "and we have to learn to handle that ball under such conditions. I understand the 1941 game was played in fog. Wish we had one of those fog-making machines so we could prepare for that, too."

Fayette County Colt Misses Hambletonian By Kick and a Minute

Fayette County came within a minute of having a colt in the Hambletonian to cheer.

And, according to best recollections of horsemen here, there never has been an entry from here in the country's premier trotting classic which is being raced Wednesday (today) at fashionable old Good Time Park in Goshen, N. Y.

Until Frank Jackson's three-year-old Darnling came along this season, about the closest Fayette County ever came to having a Hambletonian calibre colt was Tim S., owned by A. G. Gordon. At least, that's the way one horseman here looks at it.

Darnling won a lot of hometown admiration and support with his performance in the three-year-old trot at the Fair here when he finished third in both dashes. He added to his prestige when he was worked a mile in 2:06 just before being shipped east for the big race.

But the story of Darnling, Jackson and the trainer-driver, Eddie Havens, tells of one of those once-in-a-lifetime oddities that put the spice in horse racing.

Here it is, just as it came to the Record-Herald over the Associated Press wires from Goshen:

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(P)—Darnling, a colt owned by Frank Jackson of Washington Court House, O., didn't make the Hambletonian today. Here's why:

A horse kicked Darnling's driver, Eddie Havens, in the knee Monday. Owner Frank Jackson said if Havens couldn't drive, he'd withdraw Darnling. This was 20 minutes before entries closed yesterday morning.

Then a doctor said he could put a cast on Havens' knee, permitting him to drive. The driver, also from Washington Court House, suffered torn cartilages.

Jackson returned to the track to enter Darnling. He got there one

ELECTRIC WINDSHIELD WIPERS Unlike the vacuum type, they don't slow down when you step on the gas.	yes	no	no
7.0 TO 1 COMPRESSION RATIO High compression "squeezes" maximum performance from every drop of fuel.	yes	no	no
IGNITION KEY STARTING WITH AUTOMATIC CHOKE Just turn the key—the engine starts.	yes	no	no
SIX-CYLINDER BRAKES Two extra hydraulic cylinders at the front wheels give you better, more certain control.	yes	no	no
FLOATING OIL INTAKE Floats just below the surface of oil in the crankcase, so it draws in only the cleanest oil.	yes	no	no
CHAIN-CAMSHAFT DRIVE Has more contact area than the direct gear-type so it wears less and is quieter.	yes	no	no
FLOATING POWER A way of mounting the engine so it's balanced and cushioned for extra smoothness.	yes	no	no
OILITE FUEL FILTER Keeps water as well as dirt from entering the fuel lines.	yes	no	no
INDEPENDENT PARKING BRAKE It works independently of the service brakes—gives you an extra margin of safety.	yes	no	no

Equipment and trim are subject to availability of materials

And this is only the beginning of the Plymouth Value story! There are many other Plymouth "exclusives" in the lowest-priced field including the sensational new "Safety-Flow Ride." Let your Plymouth dealer tell you more—and arrange a demonstration drive.

Smashing Debut

SINGAPORE —(P)—The Swedish Angel, the 380-pound wrestling man from Europe, made his debut in Singapore with a resounding crash. He fell backwards on his opponent, Charlie Gammage, within a few minutes after the opening bell and thereby flattened his foe for the evening. Gammage was sent to the hospital with varied injuries.

Two members of the St. Louis Cardinals—second baseman Red Schoendienst and first baseman Nippy Jones—became fathers on the same day recently. Both youngsters were girls.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is LONG FELLOW
One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Hitler's Hideout To Be Destroyed

MUNICH, Germany, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Hitler's once fabulous retreat in the Bavarian mountains is to be destroyed to prevent it from becoming a shrine for neo-Nazis. Waldemar Von Koenigern, chairman of the Socialist Democratic party of Bavaria, said yesterday Bavarian cabinet members recently visited Hitler's bomb-shattered hideaway atop Obersalzberg Mountain and decided the ruins should be torn down.

Councilmen Indicted For Pin-ball Payoffs

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Indictment of four city councilmen and nine other men in connection with alleged $10,000-a-month "payoffs" by pinball-machine owners has exploded a political bombshell just two weeks before primary day. The 13 were indicted yesterday by an Erie County grand jury on one or more of the following charges: conspiracy, bribery, extortion and taking unlawful fees. Four top police officials were among the 13. Two of the councilmen are candidates for party nominations as council president. Also named were the present city license director, his predecessor, a state Democratic committeeman and two nightclub owners. District Attorney Gordon Steele said pinball machine owners had paid a total of $10,000 a month for protection. All 13 pleaded innocent before Justice George W. Rowe of state supreme court and were freed in bail on property bond.

Off to Bad Start

RICHMOND, B. C.—(AP)—Yea Gain Poon, 20, arriving in Canada to live with his father in Edmonton, promptly was arrested and charged with illegal possession of opium. The slave trade began in 1502, when the Portuguese landed the first shipment of Negroes at Santo Domingo.
